The Advancer

Each year, we honor the life and work of Annie Walker Armstrong when we give to the annual offering for North American missions named after her. As a tireless servant of God and a contagious advocate and supporter of mission efforts throughout the world, Annie Armstrong led women to unite in mission endeavors that ultimately led to the formation of the Woman's Missionary Union.

Annie believed in Christ with all her heart, but it was her hands that expressed that belief in tangible ways. She spent a great amount of time typing and handwriting letters in support of missions. Many of these letters were quite lengthy and all were filled with conviction that more could and should be done in our mission efforts. In 1893 alone, she wrote almost 18,000 letters! Annie also never hesitated to use her hands to reach out to hug a child or distribute food and clothing and the Word of God to those in need. Her hands held her own Bible as she studied to know how best to share Gods love with others. And, most important, Annie was a woman of prayer, folding her hands in prayer to intercede for the missionaries and for those they were helping discover Christ.

Annie rallied churches to give more, pray more, and do more for reaching people for Christ. As we join together to give to the Annie Armstrong Easter Offering and remember the Legacy of Annie Armstrong this year, let's be challenged to give more, pray more, and do more in reaching people for Christ! This year's week of prayer for North American Mission efforts is March 2-8. For promotional ideas for your church, go to www.anniearmstrong.com.
